GOLF ROUND ONE

at Yokohama East Country Club

Located approximately 40 kilometers south of Tokyo and only a short distance from Yokohama, Kanagawa Prefecture is the 36-hole golf complex at Yokohama Country Club. Set in the hinterland behind the port city, Yokohama Country Club's two 18-hole golf courses are flanked on their western side by the 36-holes of its immediate neighbour, Totsuka Country Club.

The club's West and East Courses represent an oasis of nature within the city, allowing golf to be played alongside the abundant cherry blossoms in spring and brilliant-colored foliage in the autumn, all with a view of the high-rise skyline of Yokohama in the distance. Both courses were originally designed by Takeo Aiyama and Hideo Takemura in 1966. Led by the golf architecture firm of Bill Coore and Ben Crenshaw, the project saw the rebuilding of a number of tees and greens across the course, as well as a focus on creating interesting corridors throughout the 6,938-yard layout.

Yokohama Country Club seeks to provide the highest quality golf experience for both its members and guests through the meticulous maintenance of every hole from tee to green, experienced caddies, and attentive staff. As well to the driving range and well-stocked Pro shop the clubhouse facilities include both formal and informal bar and dining options.

GOLF ROUND TWO

Narita Hills Country Club

The difficult course designed by the genius Pete Dye has been made even more difficult by adding a full back tee. However, the course has been renovated to be easier and more straightforward for players who hit from the ladies' regular tees. In addition, the entire green of all holes has been changed to Memorial (4th generation new vent) for the first time in Japan, resulting in even higher quality greens. Perry Dye (currently Chairman of Pete Dye Design Office) also praised the recent course renovations, resulting in a smooth course layout that can be enjoyed by everyone from top athletes to beginners.

NARITA HILLS
COUNTRY CLUB

Also due to the small intervals between courses, Fuji Golf Course is the perfect place to play golf while walking and gazing at Mt. Fuji. (Golf carts can also be used.) There are many highly strategic elements; in particular, you will feel challenged by playing on the high-speed green that is down grain from Mt. Fuji.

This highly scenic course will satisfy everyone from beginners to low handicappers. After playing a round, relax in our natural hot spring.
